Properties and Performance:

Agip SIGMA TRUCKSINT TFE belongs to the most contemporary high-tech engine oils on the market. It combines the highest performance level with an average reduction of fuel consumption of about 4 to 5%.

The future orientated UHPD-synthesis-technology has following advantages:

1. maximum wear protection, especially at cold starts
2. best protection of the cylinder walls from bore polishing
3. good protection against precipitation in the turbocharger
4. low oil consumption at low vaporisation tendency
5. fastest lubrication of the engine and simultaneously safe lubrication under full power use
6. presents best possible cleanliness of the engine due to its good ability to keep soot in suspension and highest dispersion and neutralisation abilities
7. meets the requirements for the longest prolonged oil-change-intervals approved by the manufacturers (MB 228.5, MAN M 3277, Scania LDF, Volvo VDS-2)
8. meets already today the requirements for the future, e. g. EURO 3 with simultaneous suitability for older vehicles
9. average fuel economy about 4 to 5%, best results at stop-and-go-traffic clearly higher
